

Primary and contextual mean hourly meEDI ratios

Dashed line: null ratio 1; points and bars: estimates and participant-cluster HC3 95% confidence intervals

The primary near-eye row is the prespecified analysis; chest, paired-day, and gap-timing-unaware rows provide placement and data context.
Only primary and gap-sensitivity near-eye estimates carry their declared multiplicity adjustment in the report table; no significance encoding is applied here.